CITY OF PEEKSKILL LAUNCHES WEBSITE

(Peekskill, New York)... Mayor John G. Testa and the Common Council are pleased to announce the launching of the City of Peekskill website. Residents will be able to access information on all city departments and print applications and forms for completion and submittal to the city departments.

The City of Peekskill engaged the services of Big Head Blue, a multi purpose high tech company located at 1200 Brown Street to develop a website according to city specification. Marcus Serrano, Comptroller & Director of Information Technology, spearheaded this collaboration under the direction of the City Manager, Mayor Testa and the Common Council. The City's website will feature a description of all department and a listing of the services provided. It will also feature forms and publications that can be downloaded and access links directly to the websites of community and business organizations. A community calendar is also included which will provide residents with timely information on events and other activities in and around Peekskill.

"We are thrilled to have been selected to design and develop the City's website, and join in the celebration of the official launch of this beneficial online system. The website design and architecture will allow key areas of the site to be easily updated by the City, which will provide residents and businesses with up-to-date information and activities all year round," state Andrew Edelman, president of Big Head Blue.

"The Common Council and I are excited that information about our great city will be available in the digital environment for residents and anyone seeking information on the City of Peekskill. We are trying to make the process of interacting with the City and the various departments user friendly. We'd like to thank Michel Ajram of Advantech for facilitating this process and registering the city's domain name. We invite you to visit our website and take a virtual tour of our city," noted Mayor John G. Testa.
